DYSPEPSIA

Is that misery experienced when suddenly made aware that you possess a diabolical arrangement called stomach. No two dyspeptics have the same predominant symptoms, but whatever form dyspepsia takes

and one thing is certain no one will remain a dyspeptic who will

Start the Liver working and all bodily ailments will disappear.

"For more than three years I suffered with Dyspepsia in its worst form. I tried every doctor, but they afforded no relief. At last I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which cured me in a short time. It is a good medicine. I would not be without it."—JAMES A. ROANE, Philad'a, Pa.

A Word About Moths.

While waiting for suitable weather for housecleaning much work in the way of preparation may be done, such as putting away heavy winter clothing to keep from moths during the summer.

These little pests are the plague of every housekeeper and very difficult to exclude from trunks or chests. It is therefore an excellent plan to use something offensive to them. Petroleum paper is said to be very effective. It can be bought in rolls, cut in pieces long enough to cover insides of trunks or boxes, over which clean newspapers or wrapping paper can be spread, and then all woolen clothing and furs packed in and first covered with cloth or paper and then with the petroleum paper, after which the top should be securely fastened. Woolen goods put away thus will be safe for any length of time, the paper serving to act like an antiseptic on the animal fiber of the wool, to preserve and make it healthy. —Montreal Star.

A Unique Social Function.

A feature of the last week of social life in Biddisford was the "burying" of Ash Wednesday by the French people, a custom peculiar to Canada, and this is how it is done: The host and hostess of the party busy themselves in frying "flapjacks," and after a big stock has been piled up the party is seated at the tables and there is a gastronomic contest to see who can eat the largest number of these "flapjacks." The winner gets a suitable prize, while the one who eats the fewest becomes the clown of the party for the remainder of the evening, and is obliged to submit to any pranks which the others may play and to do everything ordered to, no matter how ridiculous. The biggest record ever known there was made by a Frenchman, now dead, who ate an even two dozen good sized "flapjacks," with nothing to help them down but sugar. —Bangor (Me.) Commercial.

Preparing for the World's Fair.

The women of the Indiana World's fair commission are pushing forward their part of the work. They have selected Miss Mary Williamson to take charge of the fine arts exhibit for the state. Miss Williamson's home is in Lafayette, but she has taken a house in this city, to remain until after the exposition. Miss Williamson's work is unique and peculiar to herself and incapable of imitation. Her father was a skillful chemist and left with his daughter the secret of his dyes.

A large number of women are employed by Miss Williamson in doing certain parts of the work. A number of ladies in different parts of the state are preparing articles for exhibit at the World's fair under her direction. —Indianapolis News.

The mystery has been solved at last;

Our teeth no longer decay dead;

All troubles of the mouth are past;

By SOZODONT they're swept away;

And young and old may smile secure

With tips and teeth so bright and pure.

Dreammaking in Public Schools.

The committee on industrial schools has recommended that a kitchen be opened in a south side school and fitted up for September, 1892, and that the high school committee, in conjunction with Miss Ralston and Principal Wood, take into consideration a system of dress cutting and fitting for the high and normal schools. —Pittsburg Dispatch.

To Cover Defects.

An interesting suggestion is that the sale of mantles, jackets, cloaks, shawls and wraps has been large, and as the long cloaks and mantles now worn cover up a multitude of defects in the dresses beneath, the latter have been made to do extended service.

Where Women Raise Chickens.

The young women of Hammon, N. J., are competitors in raising chickens, and the town has more poultry than any other in the state. Under a single roof a prominent breeder had as many as 8,000 broilers at once, as well as 2,000 hens.

Women's clubs, or "Ladies' clubs," as they are described, which is probably intended to mean the same thing, are multiplying rapidly in London. Already there are some half dozen of prominence and many others not yet prominent.

Mme. Jannussek's special pets are two guinea pigs, which were presented to her by the superintendent of the Zoological gardens in Cincinnati. She has carried them about with her during the entire season, and allows them the free run of her rooms.

In all the enterprises set in motion by the Chicago fair, so far as women are concerned, the most prominent are the efforts to show women as inventors.

The Archduchess Marie Therese of Austria never becomes interested in what she is saying without pulling at a lock of hair over her right temple.

Modern Miracles.

A singer for breath was distressed, And the doctors all said she must rest, But she took G. M. D. For her weak lungs, you see, And now she can sing with the best.

An athlete gave out on a run, And he feared his career was quite done; G. M. D. Pray observe, Gave back his lost nerve, And now he can lift half a ton.

A writer who wrote for a prize, Had headaches and pain in the eyes; G. M. D. was the spell, That made him quite well, And glory before him now lies.

These are only examples of the daily triumphs of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, in restoring health and reviving wasted vitality. Sold by all druggists.

An Ideal Stove.

An electric stove has been invented by a machinist in Rome, France. It will cook a first class dinner for ten persons in four-fifths of the time required by a wood or coal fire, and the cost is only five sous (five cents) for the materials which generate the heat. The stove can be sold for twenty-five francs, or five dollars. Housekeepers will want this stove, as it makes no ashes, can be heated in three minutes and the heat supply detached in a moment. —Yankee Blade.

Women as Librarians.

Woman's fitness for library work is proved. She has a recognized place in the profession. She has contributed somewhat to the literature of the subject and holds offices of honor in the American Library association, due largely to the liberal spirit of the leaders in the library movement of the last twenty years. —Exchange.

To Keep the Hands White.

When doing housework, if your hands become chapped or red, mix cornmeal and vinegar into a stiff paste and apply to the hands two or three times a day, after washing them in hot water; then let them dry without wiping and rub with glycerin. At night use cold cream and wear gloves. —New York Journal.

Designs for New Ware.

White lilacs, snowballs and hyacinths in relief, with green foliage, are introduced in a new ware. Ornamental fruit dishes have the spreading legs arranged with arabic wire, and underneath is a sprawling or peeping cupid. —Jeweler's Circular.

Great attention is given to fitting the skirt smoothly and gracefully over the hips, more especially when a bodice band is attached—a style used in connection with the French round waist or bodice without basques, which this season will enjoy unusual prominence.

At a dinner the other evening two blond young women, each of them with classic features and small, well shaped heads, wore with excellent effect narrow twisted rolls of white velvet. On each the roll was knotted among the light, loose curls above the forehead.

The petition for woman's suffrage lately introduced in the Iowa senate was sixty-two feet long and contained the names of 1,800 legal voters and 665 women who desired to be legal voters.

THE CALIFORNIA DEMOCRATS

The Second Day's Session of the Convention.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE HOUSE.

Fire at Monrovia, Cal.—On the Trail of the Stage Robbers—The Renegade Kid Again—Drowned White Crossing a River.

CALIFORNIA DEMOCRATS.

The Second Day's Session of the Convention.

FRESNO, May 18.—The second day's session of the Democratic convention was called to order at 9:30 a. m. After the time of meeting of several district conventions was announced the report of the committee on credentials was presented.

Jackson of San Francisco offered a resolution requesting that it be read and acted upon without debate.

A motion was made and carried that all resolutions offered before the report of the committee on platform be read and referred to said committee without debate.

Jackson's resolution was then read as follows: That no person in any manner employed by the Southern Pacific Company be eligible to any position on the state central committee. Referred to the committee on resolutions.

McBee of Contra Costa offered a resolution pledging the delegates to Chicago not to support in any way David B. Hill for President.

E. J. Rogers of Alameda offered the following resolution:

Whereas, The gross receipts of the Southern Pacific Company are greater for the past year than for any other in the history of the State, and,

Whereas, Despite the present business depression their rates have not been reduced, and,

Whereas, The Railroad Commission have failed to afford relief, and said commission is controlled by the railroad monopoly, be it

Resolved, That the Democratic party demands a reduction in fares and rates and declares in favor of the abolition of the Railroad Commission.

At this point Judge Armstrong of Sacramento moved that no more resolutions be read at present, and after an excited debate it was carried.

Thomas Williams of Joaquin moved that the convention adjourn until 1 o'clock to give the committees time to prepare their reports. The motion was carried.

The Third Congressional District met immediately after the recess of the convention. L. W. Buck of Solano and P. J. Moffitt of Oakland were elected delegates to Chicago and M. J. Lamance and Paul Shirley alternates. R. A. Long of Glenn was nominated as Presidential elector and C. Y. Brown of Contra Costa alternate.

M. F. Tarpey, P. J. Moffitt and W. W. Foote made personal statements declaring that they favored Cleveland first for President and after that were in favor of the most available candidate. Foote stated that he did not or never had considered Hill available for the Presidency.

The platform contains the following resolution on the railroad question:

Resolved, That the Democratic party of the State of California resent the interference in politics of this State of the Southern Pacific Company of Kentucky; that we denounce the system of boss politics largely created by that corporation which has corrupted public men and public life, and under which few but those who find favor in the eyes of the corporation stand ready to do its bidding have held office. Under this influence our youths have been taught and trained to believe that political principal and political duty may be justly traded off for personal gain and preferment at the hands of the boss to the most entire destruction of that healthy public spirit, without which no government of the people can hope to continue in existence.

Two minority reports were submitted by the committee on platform. One of them was submitted by Stephen M. White, and agreed with the majority report in denouncing inactivity of the State Railroad Commissioners, but made no reference to the Traffic Association. His minority report also contained a substitute resolution in opposition to the majority resolution, which demanded the abolition of State Railroad Commissioners. The other minority report was signed by Harvey Dooling, White and Brannhart, and declared in favor of the free coinage of silver.

When the convention reassembled late this afternoon the platform, as submitted by the majority of the committee, was read. Two minority reports were also read. White's minority report on the railroad question was rejected by a vote of 355 to 55. The minority report declaring in favor of the free coinage of silver was withdrawn and the majority report was then adopted unanimously. A recess was taken till this evening.

Loss of Life in Flood.

OMAHA, May 18.—Advices from Sioux City, Iowa, at 6 p. m. indicate that not less than fifteen people were drowned in the flood.

Heavy rains and swollen streams are doing great damage to property in the Western States.

Cornwall, England, was shaken by an earthquake yesterday.

House Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Hayes of Iowa introduced a joint resolution in the House to-day proposing a constitutional amendment providing no pension or any back pay or emolument that does not cease with actual service shall hereafter be granted, allowed or paid to or on account of any soldier or sailor except under the provisions of the law existing at the time of enlistment, nor unless claimed within two years from the time the right to the same accrues under the law.

After Bartine's appeal was defeated, Blend offered an amendment providing for the coinage of all silver bullion purchased and now in the treasury into standard dollars, the cost to be paid from the seigniorage arising from the coinage of bullion, the remainder of the seigniorage to be converted into the treasury as available money.

Dingley of Maine and Tracy of New York raised points of order against the amendment.

A motion to strike out the appropriation for paleontologic resources was agreed to. Pending further action, the committee rose and the House adjourned.

Fire at Monrovia.

MONROVIA, May 18.—The Cronenwell building, containing the Cronenwell jewelry store, the Western Union telegraph and the Santa Fe city ticket office, and Southern California Colonization and Improvement Co.'s real estate office, and the Faunce machine and wagon shops were totally destroyed by fire last night. Heavy losses. A lamp explosion in the Western Union office was the cause of the fire. Capt. Parsons of the fire company was badly burned. No loss of life.

The Robbers Seen.

SANTA ROSA, May 18.—The robbers of the Casadero stage were seen above Fort Ross late last Tuesday evening inquiring for the nearest road to Healdsburg. Deputy Sheriff Gould of Fort Ross is on their trail and Deputies Tombs and Fine have gone out from Healdsburg, while Doc Stanley of Ukiah will come down the coast. The robbers seemed panned and have little chance of getting away.

The Wild West.

PHOENIX, Ariz., May 18, 1892.—A miner named Walker and a Mexican were fired upon from ambush near Miller's ranch and the Mexican was wounded in the shoulder. The men escaped, but found their cabin had been looted by four Indians. It is supposed to be the work of the Renegade Kid.

A Private Secretary Suicides.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—John McLuckey, private secretary to General Rosecrans, Register of the Treasury, committed suicide to-day by shooting himself through the head while laboring under temporary aberration of the mind.

Drowned While Crossing a River.

DUNSMUIR, May 18.—W. N. Rial attempted to ford the river with a wagon containing several boys. The wagon overturned and Tommy Murphy and Willie Hanson were drowned.

Naval Bill Passed.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The Senate has passed the Naval Appropriation bill.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, fainting, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are Distress some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently, to tone the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind.

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." GEORGE A. PAGE, Watertown, Mass.

The nitrate beds of Peru are giving out. The government in case of that event will have to turn her attention to Nevada, as outside of Peru the most valuable nitrate beds are to be found in Nevada. The deposits near the sink of Humboldt will probably be worked.
Among the many sobriquets for Washington is the "Wheel City." Everyone has a bicycle. The smooth streets and avenues offering superior advantage for travel. There is a club there the membership of which is confined to those who are able to ride 100 miles a day.
Manager Shearer of the Western Union Telegraph company says that Foster's electrical storm came as predicted and it affected the wires east as far as Ogden. On the 15th and 16th the lines were disabled east to Ogden and yesterday the wires were almost useless east of Omaha.
A press dispatch from Ogden says A. C. Cleveland of Nevada, who represents Messrs. Fair, Foley, Meyer and other capitalists, projectors of the Utah and San Francisco railroad, has been in Ogden for a few days, and with Mr. Jones of the Chicago and Northwestern has held several secret conferences with Ogden men on the proposed air line to the coast.
The Silver State thinks that the same thirteen persons voted at the Republican and Democratic primaries at Winnemucca. Probably they were paid by Wall street emissaries to keep up the old party organizations on the plea that it is better to divide than unite on an issue that not only involves the prosperity of the State but the bread and butter of many workmen.

STRONG PLEDGES.

Silver Clubs Organized in White Pine County.
The White Pine News, which is battling nobly for the cause of silver, says that Silver Clubs are being organized throughout the county. Old time politics are relegated to the rear and Republicans and Democrats join hands and unite for free coinage. At Aurora forty-six citizens, nearly every one in the camp, adopted and subscribed to the following resolutions:
Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting that we will not vote for either Cleveland or Harrison or anybody else that may be nominated by either the Republican or Democratic parties who we know to be opposed to free coinage of silver.
At Taylor another club was organized with twenty-seven members who adopted and signed this pledge:
"We hereby pledge ourselves to use all honorable means to secure the free and unlimited coinage of silver, and not to vote at the coming election for any candidate for the Presidency or any other Federal officer who is not pledged to the free coinage of gold and silver."
At Ely, the county seat, a rousing meeting was held at the court house Saturday evening. The house was crowded and the meeting was addressed by Hon. Thomas Wren and Hon. H. A. Comins. Mr. Wren went over the whole field of action of both parties on the silver question for the past twelve years and scored them both for their hypocrisy and insincerity in dealing with it. Mr. Comins said there was no hope in either party doing anything for silver and we must look outside of them for relief. The remarks of both gentlemen were received with applause.
LUKE WARM ADVOCATES.
Newspapers and Men of the Say-and-Do-Nothing-Stripes.
The Hailey (Idaho) News Miner, a strong champion of the silver movement, complains of luke-warm advocates of the cause as follows:
There are in this State to-day too many papers of the say-and-do-nothing-Stripe; they are ready to applaud the noble fight being made by the staunch friends of silver in Congress, but when they are expected to come out squarely and back up the silver club movement and show our friends in Congress and elsewhere that the people are in sympathy and are aiding the cause, they say it is "unwise, impolitic," etc. What if silver men in Congress had talked like that? What if Stewart, Bland, Teller and Wolcott had been of the say-and-do-nothing stripe? They have defied and fought the gold-bug element in both parties, and been applauded for it by their constituents and silver's friends everywhere. Are people to quietly fold their hands and "hush" the silver matter up and do nothing? Are they to encourage the free coinage men, or lay their throats bare for the greedy and grasping hands of the miners, money-changers and speculators in human toil? We have staunch friends leading the fight, and let us stay with them for victory or defeat. They deserve our warmest support and confidence; they are fighting for us; let us encourage them by words and acts; let us stay with them until something gives away; let them not say that we are indifferent and lack zeal.

CAMPBELL ACQUITTED.

Found Not Guilty on One Indictment and the Others Dismissed.
W. D. Campbell, for many years a prominent citizen of White Pine county, was indicted by the Grand Jury of that county last winter for grand larceny. There were three counts in the indictment, it being charged that Campbell at various times had stolen cattle and branded calves not his own. He had left White Pine and removed to California, where he was arrested last winter and taken to Ely for trial. The case came up in the District Court last week, and prominent counsel were engaged for the prosecution and defense. The jury found a verdict of not guilty on the first count, and subsequently District Attorney Truce, feeling confident no conviction could be had, dismissed the other indictments. The News says Campbell is now a free man, and the verdict and later action of the District Attorney give general satisfaction so far as it has heard an expression of public opinion.
"HER HUSBAND."
Louise Sydmetz as Margery Lee-A Southern Comedy Drama of Deep Interest.
The New York World says of the play which appears at McKissick's Opera House next Wednesday evening: Windsor Theater last evening was packed to the doors by an appreciative audience to witness the comedy drama, "Her Husband," and it was pronounced a grand success. The play is from the pen of Annie Lewis Johnson, and is laid in South Carolina. The heroine was called again and again before the audience at the end of the first, second and third acts. To judge from the first night the engagement will be a thoroughly successful one.
Seats now on sale at Pinniger's drug store.
Married.
W. L. Middour, one of Reno's enterprising young business men, was married to Miss Mary L. Sherman Tuesday evening. Miss Sherman is a graduate of the State University, and has been most successfully connected with the public schools in this State. Rev. T. Magill performed the ceremony. May success and happiness attend them in their future journey in life.
Riverside Avenue.
The beautiful Riverside avenue, which, under proper care, would make the most charming driveway in Reno is being sadly neglected. Originally it was to be 100 feet wide. Fences are now being built so as to encroach on the street, and it is not more than 60 feet wide in some places. This matter should be looked into before it is too late.

THE SAVAGE MURDER CASE.

Some Difficulty Experienced in Getting a Jury.
In the District Court yesterday, Judge Cheney presiding, the case of James Gilmore, indicted for shooting Jack Savage last April at a dive known as "Gilmore's Gardens," was called for trial. District Attorney Julien appeared as counsel for the State and Clarke & Jones for the defense.
In getting a jury considerable time was taken up. The panel was exhausted at noon, and the Court was adjourned until 7 p. m. last night, when the selecting of a jury was proceeded with.
An Injunction.
There are two kinds the courts tell you—a temporary and a permanent injunction. A temporary injunction gives relief for a time only, but when you take Simmons Liver Regulator for Dyspepsia, and find yourself cured, that means a permanent injunction. It's the same when taking the Regulator for Malaria, and all affections of the liver and kidneys.
Mass Meeting at Wadsworth.
The undersigned citizens of Wadsworth hereby issue this call for a mass meeting to be held at K. of P. hall on Friday evening, May 20, for the purpose of organizing a Silver League. Every citizen who has the welfare of his State at heart, every man who cares more for his principles than for his party affiliations, every man who believes in the free and unlimited coinage of silver, is respectfully invited to be present and assist in forwarding this movement which is of such vital interest to our State.

REFLECTIONS.
I crossed the river late one night
Reflected lay each warning light
Upon the water's breast:
And to my thought they seemed to be
Knights and their ladies fair to see,
In glowing colors dressed.
The knights in golden armor bright
Ave only seen when rides the light,
And never appear by day.
They dance and turn, and come and go,
With airy motions, to and fro,
The fairy knights are they.
And fairy ladies there are seen,
Some dressed in rose and some in green.
For whom the knights will fight.
You could not hear those maidens dance,
Though you should enter there by chance,
Their footsteps fall so light.
Where do they dwell? No one can say.
When morning comes they fade away
Like mist before the sun.
A flash of gems is seen, and then,
Passing away from sight of men,
They vanish every day.
—Bessie L. Fisher in Harper's Young People.
Indiana's Matrimonial Mart.
During the month of March the Clark county clerk issued eighty licenses to runaway couples from Kentucky. Of this number one magistrate caught forty-four and the remainder were gobbled by the smaller magisterial fishes. From a cursory examination of the marriage records on file in the clerk's office for the past fifteen years not less than 8,000 licenses have been issued to persons in quest of bliss of this nature, 95 per cent. of whom came from Kentucky. Out of these seemingly startling figures one inquire married 4,000 couples, another 2,000, another 1,500, another 250, leaving 250 persons whose religion necessarily dictated to them that they be married by a minister of their choice.
It will be remembered that some weeks ago an ordinance was passed by the city council prohibiting "matrimonial runners" or "steepers" from further following their disgraceful calling under penalty of a heavy fine. The new law caused them to cease operations for the time being. Now they look upon the ordinance as a dead letter, and business in this line has been resumed at the same old stand—principally at the ferry dock and on the streets.—Jeffersonville Cor. Indianapolis News.
The University Cadets
The Cadets are now at work in skirmish drill; they present a very picturesque appearance lined for action. They are also taking daily practice in target shooting. Lieutenant Neal has offered a handsome medal for the best score. Frank Powers of Engleville has the lead so far, and is in a fair way to win.

The Ideal Baking Powder

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder.

For more than fifty years Cream of Tartar and Bicarbonate of Soda have been used for leavening purposes with sufficient flour added to preserve the strength of the powder unimpaired, and this with the addition of whites of eggs comprises this pure and wholesome leavening agent, that has been the standard for 50 years. In its use pure, wholesome and delicious food is always assured. Makes cake and biscuit that retain their moisture, and while they are flaky and extremely light they are fine grained, not coarse and full of holes as made with ammonia baking powders, latter dries up quickly. Alum-powders leave a bitter taste in the bread or cake.
Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder once used, always used.

AN EXPLANATION AND ANSWER.

WHAT IS WINTERILLA?

Why, it is a pleasant and effective remedy for the positive cure of Chapped Hands, Poison Oak, Salt Rheum, Eczema, Sun Burn, Tan; positively removes freckles, and is one of the grandest luxuries for gentlemen after shaving. This is an exquisite article prepared with the greatest care by scientific experts. Its component parts are perfectly harmless, and the ladies toilet is not complete without it. One trial will convince the most skeptical that what we say of WINTERILLA is true. For sale by all druggists in 25c and 50c bottles.

WOMAN'S WORLD

ONE OF THREE ECCENTRIC GIRLS A BRILLIANT ARTIST.

A New York Leap Year Party—A Little Child Shall Lead Them—An Important Question—The Amused Ex-Mayor. "Shadow" Silks for Decorative Uses.

Last spring three pretty Louisville girls, chaperoned by a matron of their own age, had apartments at a fashionable and expensive apartment house in this city. They were long newmarket, white cuffs, derby hats and buttonhole bouquets with that assumption of manishness that young girls love to affect. They were devoted to the theaters, and eschewed men, in whose faces they yawned. If they liked an actress, or any act of a play, they would bundle into a box in time to see it, perhaps throw their nosebags at their favorite and then go home. Occasionally they would give their favorite a breakfast or supper.

There was, perhaps, eccentricity in their manner of life, but it was sincere and as modest in its way as that of nuns. One of these girls was Enid Yandell, a girl of twenty-one, of sweet gravity of demeanor, devoted to modeling and sculpture, for which she had undoubted talent. The same interesting group of young people had planned to keep house together in this city last winter. This plan was broken up by reason of the summons of Miss Yandell to Chicago by Mrs. Potter Palmer, the president of the Woman's World Fair commission.

There Miss Yandell has designed two female figures of heroic size, which, superintending her work people from 8 o'clock in the morning until the day's work is over, she has put into clay. From these models thirty-two statues have been cast. These are intended to serve as caryatides supporting the roof garden. They are arranged in groups of four, separated by a Corinthian column.

Enid Yandell springs from a race of surgeons, whose study of the human form has resulted in her desire to express it. Her art education was conducted at the Cincinnati School of Art. There she studied for four years, and carried away the first prize with a statue of Hermes. This young woman of twenty-two is the first woman actually to labor in Jackson park in the interest of the exhibition.—New York Evening Sun.

Lively Young Women at Leap Year Parties. Some of the leap year parties seem to have been carried on or off with exceptional spirit. It has been laughable, for instance, the way in which the men have insisted upon being chaperoned and young women have called in carriages to accompany gay bachelors, who were carefully protected by their mothers, to the scene of festivities. One inveterate joker gave perhaps a hint to the belles of the sort of chaperones that would be most acceptable, when he came into the parlor to receive his fair escort, followed by an elderly aunt who is deaf as a post and is besides almost blind. This same man was wrapped in a white opera cloak with an absurd resemblance to a dress suit; he carried a bouquet of flowers and wore a band of ribbon and bow on his hair.

When he appeared from the dressing room, after laying aside his ambiguous wrap, it was seen that the sleeves of his coat had been taken out, and elbow sleeves of pink silk and lace substituted, which, met by long pink kid gloves, effectually "brightened" his toilet and added to his nondescript appearance. At another leap year party, held just before Lent began, the young women danced the cotillon with white silk crush hats under their arms. At the same affair a young footman in cap and apron did duty in the men's dressing room, which was besides plentifully provided with powder and rouge boxes, hairpins, a tray of bonbons, and aggressive bottles of cologne and extracts. When the ladies doffed their outside gear the actual maid wore with her regulation petticoats a livery jacket and vest and carried a whisk broom as a sort of badge of office. The room was bereft of its usual feminine fripperies, and in their place were suggestively set out tobacco, pipes and cigars, with decanters of cognac and a huge fancy bowl filled with cloves.—Her Point of View in New York Times.

A Little Child Shall Lead Them. The lady who wields all power at Hawarden at present is little Miss Drew, Mr. Gladstone's two-year-old grandchild. A recent visitor to Hawarden says: "I never saw a prettier sight than when she ran through the open door which divides the drawing room from the Grand Old Man's sanctuary, and, pulling at the lapels of his dressing gown, drew him imperiously away from Homer or the Blue Book, or whatever was engaging him. The first intimation we had in the next room was a peal of laughter on Mr. Gladstone's part at the obvious necessity of capitulating to that daring invasion, as musical and hearty as ever came from human lips, for his laugh is one of his greatest attractions.

"Presently the Grand Old Man and the little child, separated by eighty years of time, came hand in hand together into the drawing room. Mrs. Gladstone runs to the piano and strikes up a lively waltz tune, and in a second the two partners are dancing together, the Grand Old Man putting into her pinpoints a lot of funny, old-fashioned little steps, learned of our great-grandmothers seventy-five years ago, which was impossible to view without delight and applause, although so much pathos mingled with comedy in the touching scene."—Pall Mall Gazette.

An Important Question. Her majesty has not yet settled whether there will be any drawing rooms this season, but I hear that it is probable that at least one will be held. The utter destruction of the London season which must follow if the royal Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

family remain in complete retirement should, and probably will, lead to a decision to have at least one court. The queen herself would, it is said, be present and receive for a time, and then leave the post of honor to one of her daughters or daughters-in-law. The fatigue of holding a court is considerable.

The queen does not actually stand for the whole time, being supported by a high chair that is concealed by her robes, but yet the attitude is tiring. Even more strain, however, is caused by the incessant passage of new figures robed in bright colors and decked with flashing gems, before the eyes of the sovereign. After a short time this produces a sensation of giddiness and great fatigue. It is for these reasons that the queen rarely stays longer than from an hour to an hour and a half at a drawing room, her place being then taken by the Princess of Wales.

But supposing her royal highness should feel it necessary to avoid all social functions for months to come, it will not be easy to satisfy debutantes or American or country "presentees" by proposing any other substitute for the sovereign. If, therefore, the queen and the Princess of Wales can, without injury to their health, hold at least one drawing room, the effort will be thankfully received by the very large class of persons who look to the London season as their harvest for the year.—Mrs. Fenwick-Miller in London Illustrated News.

She Had an Ex-Mayor for an Auditor. Mrs. Custer is a clever story teller, with the keen sense of humor, and the cute, offhand way of making her points seldom found in a woman, or in a man, for that matter. In delivering her lecture on buffalo hunting at Dr. Corcoran's recently she several times dropped her notes and told stories, and she seemed to enjoy the laughter which broke out every few minutes at her witty sallies. When she referred to the tribulations of the Grand Duke Alexis on his travels in this country in encountering orating mayors and city councils at every turn, as she did several times, the fair lecturer seemed a little surprised at the sensation produced on her audience.

When finally she described the incursion of a mayor upon a Mississippi steamboat where the duke was trying to enjoy himself with a party of ladies, the merriment of her hearers reached its climax, and Mrs. Custer looked quizzically at the distinguished gentleman who sat directly in front of her clapping his hands vigorously and laughing as hard as he could. It was ex-Mayor Bradford. Mrs. Custer is an exceedingly pretty woman, with the southern pronunciation very marked, and her lecture was delightful.—Springfield Homestead.

"Shadow" Silks for Decorative Uses. Among the new fabrics for household decoration are the "shadow silks" designed by the Society of Decorative Artists. They present exquisite color combinations of softly shaded tints in intricate patterns on changeable backgrounds, and are most rich and artistic in effect. They are used for portieres, curtains, mantle drapes, cushions and spreads. In the form of curtains they are simply hung and are frequently made up with no trimming except a hem folded up on the right side of the silk itself, which is so unlike on the two sides as to have the effect of a band of entirely different material when folded back upon itself.

In mantle covers the silk may be bordered with a fringe or have tassels only at the corners. The scarf is draped but once near one end. For table spreads, if more than one width is required for the spread, a length is split, overhanded by the selvages, hemmed all around, either plainly or with the hem turned back on the right side across the ends, and has tassels at the corners.—Carpet and Upholstery Trade Review.

A Woman Politician. Lady Sandhurst, who died recently in England, was one of the most active workers in partisan politics as well as in reforms and charities. An American writer in one of our reviews, commenting on the death of Lady Sandhurst, says: "She belonged to a type far more common in England than in America—the public woman, zealous for reforms, active in charities and philanthropies, and as pronounced a partisan in politics as Sir William Harcourt himself."

But this country, that should have been in advance of England in the possession of this type of woman, is now rapidly following in the footsteps of the mother country, and able and cultivated women are appearing to take their places as pronounced politicians, and to advance the best interests of both men and women. The examples of England's best and bravest and noblest women—ladies like this one and many others—may well inspire our educated American women to take a more active and earnest interest in our public and political affairs.—Boston Traveler.

Princess Marie. The Duchess of Edinburgh's eldest daughter, Princess Marie, is nearly of an age now to make her first appearance at a drawing room (the daughters of the royal family are never "presented," they simply "attend" the drawing room with the other members of the queen's family, though they do wear white presentation dresses). Princess Marie is nearly seventeen, and it is quite possible that she may attend one of the drawing rooms this season with her mother, though this is not yet settled.

If she does, it is certain she will be an object of great interest at court, and undoubtedly will be much admired, as she is the prettiest of the queen's grandchildren. The Duke of Edinburgh's daughters are all pretty girls; the third, Princess Alexandra, is the most Russian in feature and most resembles her mother.—London Letter.

Exclusive. A London "ladies' club"—the Progressive—has had this inscription prepared for its portals: "Dogs, children and men may be admitted to the waiting room only."
